

QHR Provides Value to Trustees

Being a hospital trustee today requires significant volunteer commitment. And that's just the time required to govern the hospital. Trustees must function in a complex healthcare environment, one that is constantly changing and typically outside their scope of knowledge.

QHR supports our client trustees with a variety of educational resources to help them lead their hospitals. From the new trustee orientation packet to the national trustee conference, we believe continuing board education is vital to the success of our client hospitals.

RESOURCES FOR NEW TRUSTEES

- Trustee Orientation Manual — an overview of QHR national presence (map) and services, samples of trustee education materials, etc.
- Board Basics — a 1 ½ day education program for new trustees
- The Trustee Quick Reference Guide — a handbook for trustees that provides an overview of hospital governance issues and terms

RESOURCES FOR TRUSTEE CONTINUING EDUCATION

- A National Conference for Trustees to provide continuing education on current topics in the healthcare environment
- Board Briefings - A quarterly publication prepared by the QHR Learning Institute to provide an in-depth look at specific issues relevant to trustees
- Trustee Times - A quarterly publication prepared by the QHR Learning Institute that is an overview of a variety of issues relevant to trustees
- Webinars offered locally on topics of interest to trustees
- QHR Regional executives also inform trustees about healthcare trends and hot topics at retreats and ongoing board meetings
- A National Conference for Board Chairs, Medical Staff Leaders and CEOs on hospital leadership issues

ADDITIONAL TRUSTEE RESOURCES

- Regional senior executive support at board meetings, serving as an advisor to the trustees
- A Board Self-Assessment Tool, which provides trustees a mechanism to measure their effectiveness and identify areas for improvement
- A national QHR Trustee Advisory Board, comprised of QHR hospital client trustees from each Region, who provide a trustee's perspective on current and proposed QHR products and services

Building
long-term relationships with hospitals
